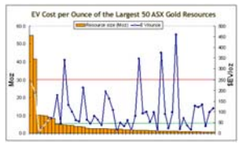
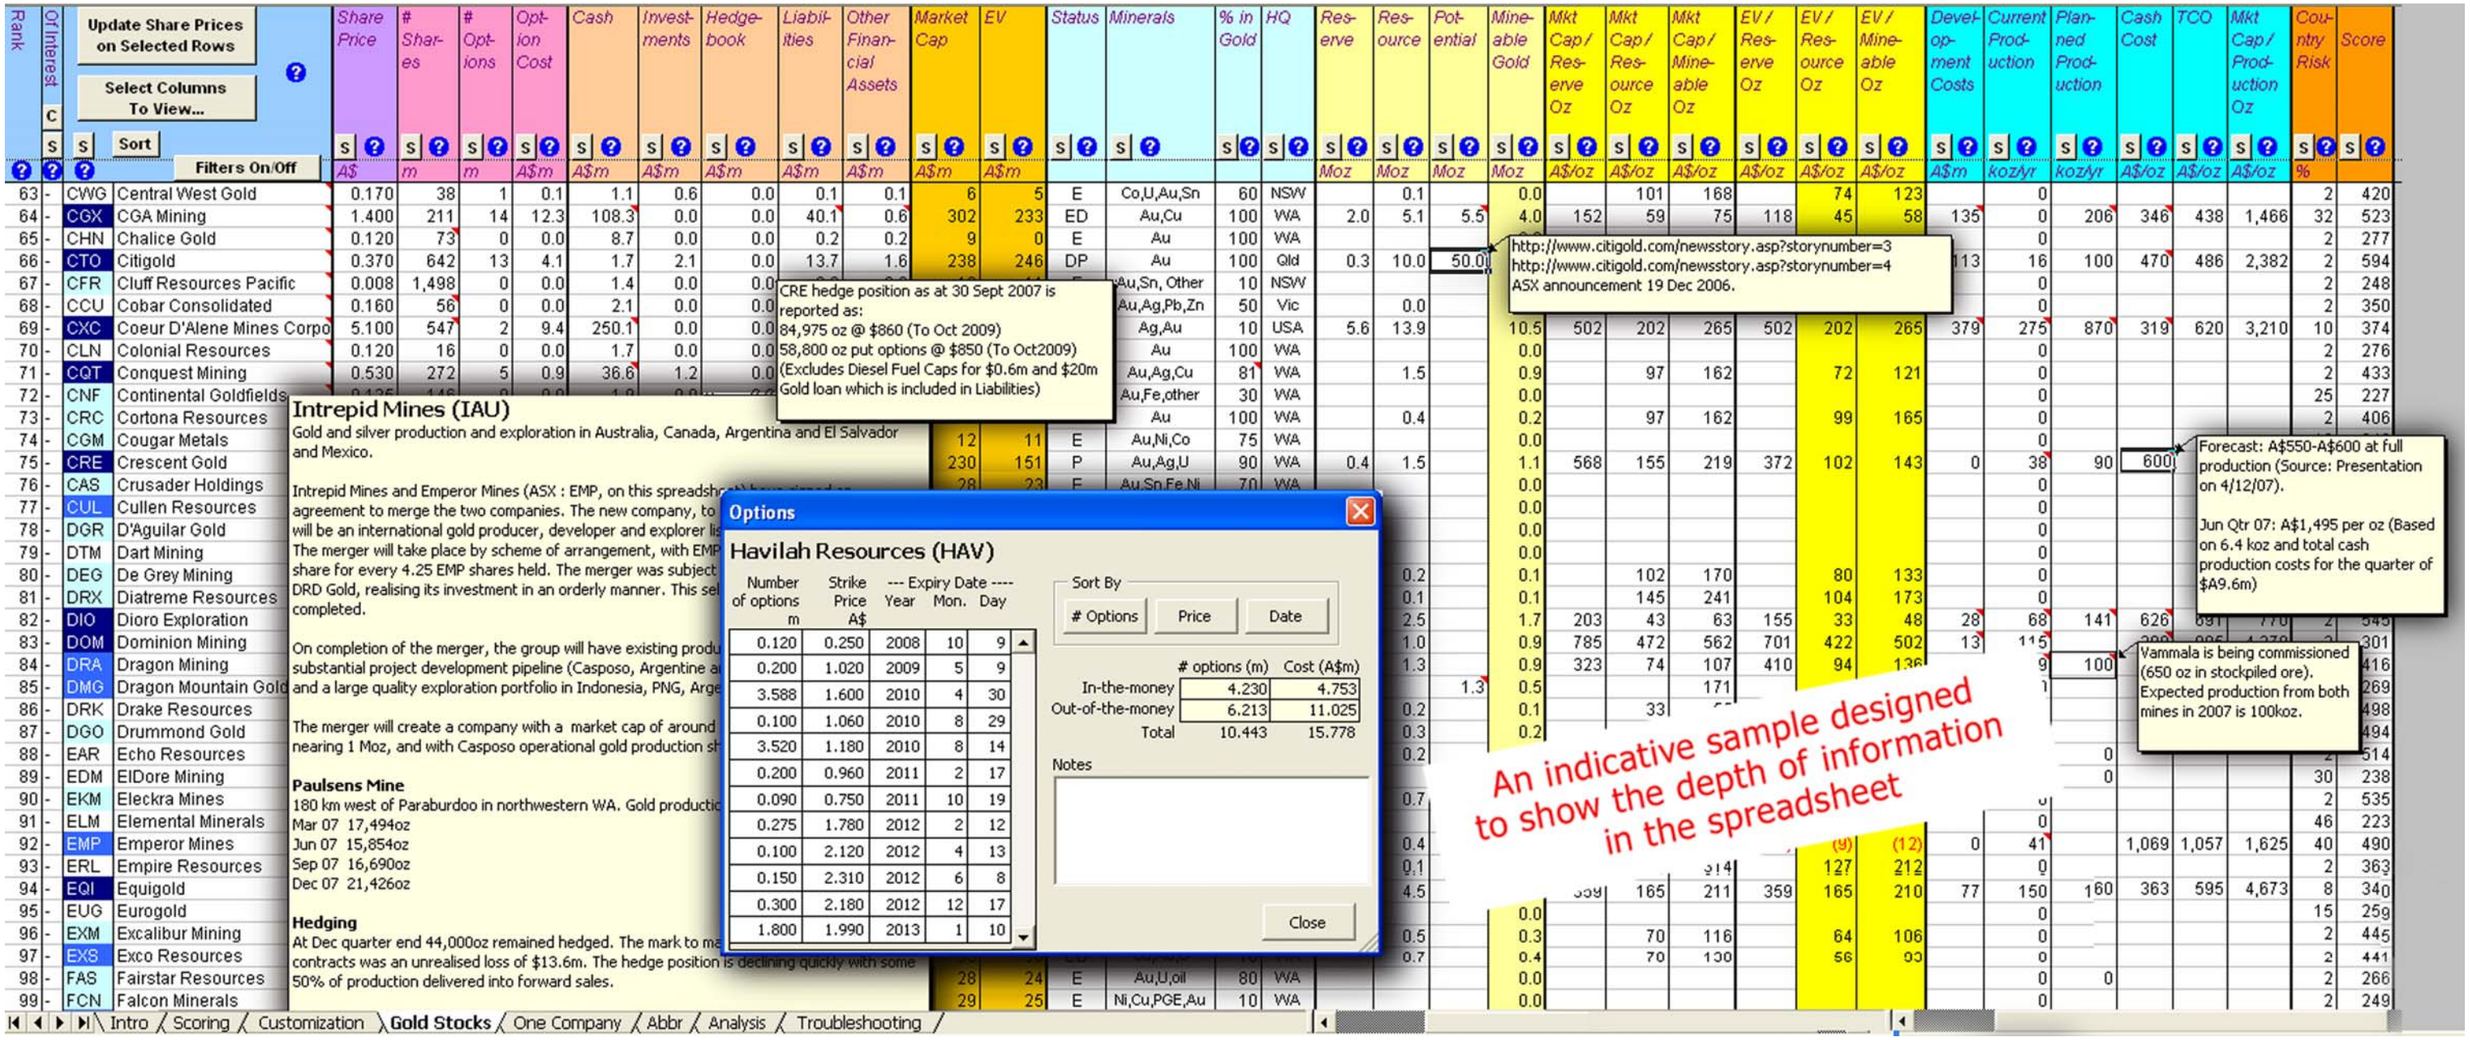
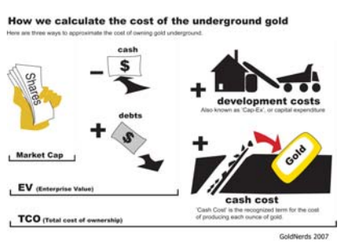
Nerds have the Numbers on Australian Gold Stocks

We've pushed Excel spreadsheets to new frontiers. You can sort, score and filter; Customize currencies, columns, and country risk. There are pop- up tables within tables, updaters that reach out to the web, and over 50 macros. When you click to update prices, the program updates the investment prices too, and recalculates in-the-money-options.

GoldNerds is the only way to find all the stocks on the Australian gold sector which cost less than half the average dollar per ounce. It's the only way to find stocks that have investments worth more than their entire market cap. It's the only way to find stocks the rest of the market misses.







There are over 80,000 words describing nearly 300 companies in the comments specific to each stock, and each project.

GoldNerds tracks every option and every investment owned by all the stocks—because they update with a click, we're more up-to-date than almost every Balance Sheet or announcement can be.

- Over 280 stocks updated every two weeks
- Twelve researchers read 10,000 ASX announcements pa.
- Made for investors by investors.
- Independent—funded entirely by subscribers.
